WHAT IS THE BACKGROUND? - Citation

WHAT ARE THE FACTS? What are the facts of the case? Who are parties? What? Injury/remedy? Claims?

WHAT IS THE LEGAL QUESTION? What is the question the court is asking? The holding is the answer to this question.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER TO THAT QUESTIONS This is the court's holding The court affirms, reverses, and/or remands back to the lower court for further proceedings.

REASONING Ask yourself \"Why\" the court answers the question in this way. What \"test\" does the court use to answer the question?

ANY OTHER OPINIONS? Not all judges may agree Majority-binding precedent Dissent=Disagree with the outcome Concur= Agree with the outcome but wants to elaborate or agrees with the outcome for different reasons

HOW FIT WITH OTHER CASES? In what way does this case address issues that I've seen before?

Managing a difficult employee is one of the biggest challenges a supervisor can face. We're talking about individuals who are not violating company policy or breaking the law, but whose demeanor, attitude and behavior are off-putting to others.

Left unaddressed, a difficult employee has the potential to do serious harm to overall workplace morale and productivity, and can even drive other valuable employees away from the department or company.

You must be responsive to the issues and complaints of the offending employee's colleagues. Don't brush them off. Document the complaints in detail, and ask for specific examples of the behavior in question.

Address the employee in question. This is understandably uncomfortable, but it must be done. Ideally, you will speak with the employee immediately following an incident, so that the event is fresh in his or her mind.

Follow an established protocol of steps based on a progressive discipline policy. Start with a conversation, or counseling session. If the behaviors persist, move to a verbal and then a written warning.
